Zenodo Self-Deposit Guidelines for the conference Formulaic Language in Historical Research and Data Extraction[1]

Self-archiving is encouraged for the Formulaic Language Conference of 2024. Please upload your paper by January 10. This will allow ample time for other participants to read it, prepare their responses, and facilitate a meaningful discussion during the conference.

We kindly remind you to keep your paper between 2000 and 4000 words. For uniformity, we ask you to use the Chicago Manual of Style (17th ed.) as the preferred style guide. Additionally, please format your paper using a 12-point Arial font and maintain a 1.5 line spacing.

Getting started:
1. Go to https://zenodo.org/communities/formulaiclanguage2024
2. Create an account if you need.
3. Click on 'Upload'
4. Drag & drop the file(s) to deposit.

How to fill in the metadata fields of your Zenodo record

Communities: Formulaic Language in Historical Research and Data Extraction
Upload type: Publication (Conference paper).
DOI: leave it blank
Publication date: date of your upload
Title: add the title of your abstract
Authors: add authors and their ORCIDs
Description: add a couple of sentences that will give an idea to your readers about the content of your abstract.
Version: leave it blank until you add further versions.
Language
Keywords
Access: Open Access
Licence: Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International (CC-BY 4.0)
Conference title: Formulaic Language in Historical Research and Data Extraction
Dates: February 7th - 9th, 2024
Place: Amsterdam, Netherlands
Website: https://republic.huygens.knaw.nl/index.php/en/conference-formulaic-language/

Final steps: save and publish.

---

[1] Inspired by the Zenodo Self-Deposit Guidelines for DARIAH-EU created by Dr. Erzsébet Tóth-Czifra